

Jeetu Patel President & CPO Cisco

About Jeetu:

Jeetu Patel is Cisco's President and Chief Product Officer, leading global product vision and strategy. Under his leadership, Cisco has driven innovation across its broad portfolio of products, establishing the company as the critical infrastructure for the AI era.

Patel joined Cisco in 2020 to lead the collaboration and security business. He quickly became recognized for his commitment to product design and user experience, leading the team through a period of rapid innovation to transform Webex and support customers through the global pandemic. In 2024, he was promoted to the role of Chief Product Officer, where he now leads several multibillion-dollar categories, including networking, computing, security, Splunk, and more.

A recognized expert in artificial intelligence and product strategy, Patel has held senior leadership roles at Box, EMC, and Doculabs. He also serves on the board of JLL. Patel holds a B.S. in Information Decision Sciences from the University of Illinois Chicago.
